Winter Sustainability Abroad Program 2026

Official Information & Frequently Asked Questions Response

Dear Applicants and Prospective Participants,

Thank you for your active engagement and interest in the Winter Sustainability Abroad Program 2026. Below, we have compiled comprehensive official responses to the key inquiries regarding course structure, application timeline, admission criteria, academic credit, faculty, and payment policies.

01. Official Course Schedule & Syllabus Details [ATTACHED IN EMAIL]

The complete official course schedule—detailing specific learning topics, structured field activities, and instructional breakdown—has been officially attached in the same email transmission accompanying this document for your immediate reference and institutional submission.

02. Application Process & Program Fee Payment Timeline

Following the official application deadline on October 9, 2026, our admissions committee will complete the final review of all submissions. Formal acceptance notifications, alongside detailed invoice guidelines and secure payment instructions, will be delivered directly to your registered email addresses.

03. Program Admission Criteria & Selection Policy

We currently do not place a strict limit on the total participant quota. Applications are evaluated to ensure general candidate alignment. Provided that applicants meet the general requirements and have no critical conflicting issues or disqualifying factors, qualified candidates will be smoothly admitted into the program.

04. Instructional Hours, Transcripts, and Academic Credits

- Total Contact Hours: The curriculum features approximately 15 contact hours in total, encompassing interactive academic lectures and immersive experiential field visits.
- Official Transcript: Upon successful completion of all program requirements, participants will receive an official transcript issued by the Language Institute, Chiang Mai University (LICMU).
- Credit Transferability: Please note that this program currently does not carry direct academic credits or automatic credit transfer guarantees to external home institutions.

05. Program Suitability for Prospective Doctoral Students & Academic Networking

This program is highly beneficial for prospective Ph.D. candidates in environmental studies and sustainability:

- Academic Enrichment: It offers robust, practical insights and contemporary regional sustainability perspectives that enrich your research background and academic portfolio.
