The National Taiwan Ocean University (NTOU) was established in 1953 as the Provincial Taiwan Maritime Technology College. Eleven years later, in 1964, it became a maritime college that offered bachelor's and master's degrees in various maritime fields. During this period, the college was supported by the Taiwan Provincial Government of the Republic of China. In 1979, we became a national institution and were renamed the National Taiwan College of Marine Science and Technology. A decade later, in 1989, the college became a full-fledged university.

At present, NTOU has 7 colleges - Maritime Science and Management, Life Sciences, Ocean Science and Resource, Engineering, Electrical Engineering Computer Science, and Ocean Law and Policy as well as Humanities and Social Sciences. These colleges house a total of 34 undergraduate departments and graduate institutes.

As we look at the progress over the last 60 years, the University has undergone great growth and change and is now recognized as one of the nation's most important centers of learning and scholarship, especially in the marine sciences and maritime studies.

Responding to the changing needs of society and the growing interests of our students, we are developing into a comprehensive university with a unique maritime focus. We aim to be an internationally known institution of higher education. Toward this end, our social sciences and liberal arts programs are developing as a core part of the education at NTOU. The University is rapidly moving toward providing a positive learning environment and culture for intellectual and personal growth, with ocean interests as our unique characteristic.

Overview

The University was founded in 1953 as a maritime college. It was renamed the National Taiwan College of Marine Science and Technology in 1979 and the National Taiwan Ocean University in 1989. Currently, the University has seven colleges comprising 22 departments and 11 graduate institutes, staffed with 645 faculty and administrative members, and more than 9,000 students are enrolled at NTOU.

With its programs in maritime science and management, life sciences, ocean science and resource, engineering, electrical engineering and computer science, and humanities and social sciences, the University prides itself on being a unique research and education center. The University has played a pivotal role in the development of marine science and ocean technology in Taiwan. Throughout a period of more than four decades, graduates are easily placed in shipping, fishing, food, and engineering enterprises.

Tips for Packing Your Bags

Here is a list of items most international students at NTOU recommend new students bring with them to Taiwan:

- * Passport and other documents for status verification
- * Original academic documents: Transcripts, degrees, diplomas, certificates
- * Good dictionary such as Chinese-English, if English is your official language. Purchase a reliable dictionary that explains Chinese in your local language.
- * Photocopies of passport, other documents for status verification, and academic documents. Ensure that you have photocopies of the main pages of your passport (expiry date/ passport number/date of birth), your authenticated graduation transcripts, degrees/ diplomas/certificates, etc. Keep a set of photocopies in each piece of luggage in case one of your bags is lost or lost in transit. You also need to carry at least 10 photographs of yourself (2x2 inch color photos with white background)

Also, take note of important numbers:

- * Write your passport number, travelers check numbers, bank draft number, flight number, contact number, and emergency contact number on a single sheet of paper.
- * Keep it in your handbag, so that you don't have to take out your important documents every time you need to fill out a form.
- * Leave a list of all these important numbers at home as well.

Preparations for Keelung

a. Book your flight

As soon as you receive your NTOU acceptance letter, you should apply to the R.O.C. Representative Office (Embassy) in your country for a residence visa. As soon as your visa is granted, book your flight to Taiwan.

b. Finances

Your first month allowance takes 3 weeks to process upon arrival. You are advised to secure US$2000 to cover living expenses for the first month in Taiwan.

Cash (US dollars) and travel checks are accepted. As a precaution when collecting US dollars, make sure that the dollar notes are 2014 or more recent. Money changers can reject old US dollar notes due to uncertainty of authenticity.

On arrival, you can exchange cash or travelers check for NT dollars at the Taoyuan International Airport. Exchange rates are not stable and can fluctuate at times. On an average yearly, $1 US = $30NT (Taiwan Dollars).

c. Customs Regulations

Taiwan is an island with a valuable agricultural industry. Plants and fruits are not allowed in the country. During your flight, you will receive a customs declaration form. Visit the Directorate General of Customs website for more detailed information.

d. Packing your bags

Keelung is located on the coast and its weather is very unpredictable. You need a heavy coat for winter, but bring clothes that you can wear in layers, as the temperature can change drastically during the course of a day. Almost all students dress informally and in comfortable clothes, such as jeans, shorts, t-shirts, etc. It is useful to bring some formal and traditional suits/dresses for formal occasions and cultural activities.

e. Electrical items and other household equipment

Most off-campus student accommodation is furnished, but most likely does not include any household goods. Simple household items can be purchased at very low cost at many stores on campus or in the city center, but some students may wish to bring some of their own basic items. The voltage used in Taiwan is 110 volts with a frequency of 60 cycles, AC. The plug sockets are two-pin.

Preparation for the start of the class

Your first weeks at NTOU are going to be busy! Use this checklist as a guide to settle in and prepare for classes.

Scholarship Application

Scholarship applications should be submitted by the academic department to the NTOU scholarship committee or the NTOU administration for approval, countersigned by the DAEC, the Accounting Office and the Research and Development Affairs.

The completed applications are presented to the university president for final approval. Qualified students will receive a monthly stipend of up to NT$8,000.

The amount of scholarships for applicants from sister universities may vary depending on the reciprocal benefits established by both universities.

B. Tuition Fees

Tuition covers basic costs for the new semester. Normally, the health exam will cost NT$550 for everyone. If your country is in the list of malaria areas and you stay more than 3 months in Taiwan, the doctor will have an additional examination that will cost you NT$300, the total is NT$850.

Any resident who stays in Taiwan for more than 6 months is required by law to enroll in National Health Insurance (NHI). Since new international students cannot apply for NHI within the first 6 months, OIA will assist new students to apply for insurances for critical illness and injury in casualties. The cost of illness and injury insurance is approximately NT$3,000 for 6 months, and other insurances can cost you a lot more money. After six months, students can apply for the NHI. The cost is about NT$749 per month.

There are 6 months in each semester. Thus, the school has a specific account to keep the 6-month payment for 6 months for the NHI. Each month, the school takes a month of NHI contribution as a payment.

Every semester, Student Safety Insurance (SSI) is a basic required insurance plan once a student is registered with NTOU. Medical benefit covers the medical service for unexpected injuries such as car accidents, experimenting or exercising when students are in the school, etc. Students collect NT$ 200 for each semester of registration.

C. Registration

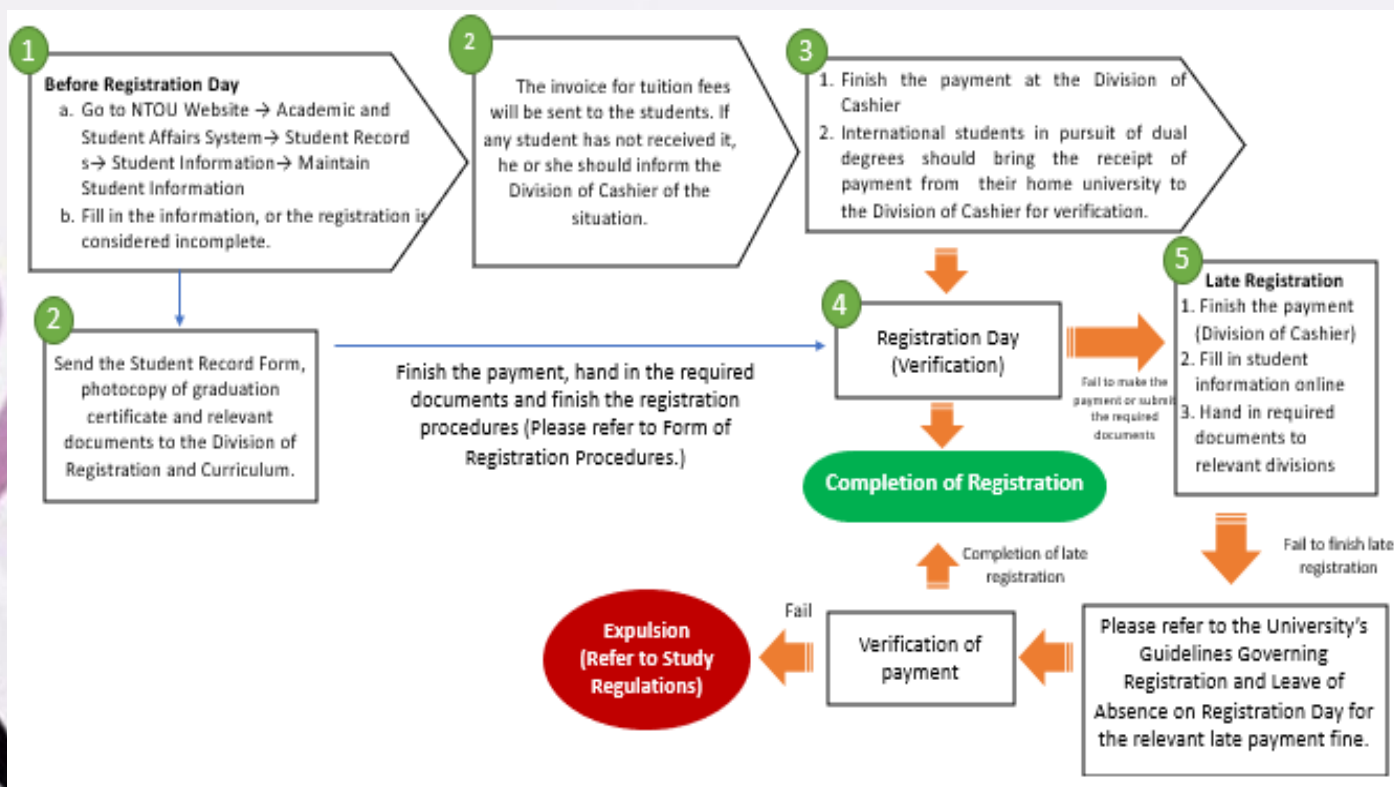

According to university procedures, students on campus should register before the start of the session. Due to COVID-19, registration procedure would be online and requires students to fill out some information in NTOU's Academic Information System (AIS). AIS would be available for registration from September 1-6. We will provide you with a guidance of how to use AIS for registration. Moreover, to finish the registration procedure, students must pay for the school fee. Without paid records, students may not register.

About Taiwan (Republic of China)

- * Area: 36,000 square kilometers
- * Population: 23 million
- * Language: Mandarin, Taiwanese, Hakka Indigenous Languages
- * Religion: Buddhism, Taoism, Christianity, Isla

Taiwan's total land area is only about 36,000 square kilometers (14,400 square miles); it is shaped like a leaf that is narrow at both ends. It lies off the southeastern coast of mainland Asia, across the Taiwan Strait from mainland China, a solitary island on the western edge of the Pacific Ocean. To the north lies Japan; to the south is the Philippines. Many airlines fly to Taiwan, making it a perfect travel destination.

Taiwan lies on the western edge of the Pacific 'ring of fire', and continuous tectonic movements have created majestic peaks, rolling hills, plains, basins, coastlines, and other wonders. Taiwan's tropical, subtropical, and temperate climates provide clear differentiation between different seasons. There are about 18,400 species of wildlife on the island, with more than 20% belonging to rare or endangered species. Among these are land-locked salmon, Taiwan mountain goat, Formosan rock monkey, Formosan black bear, blue magpie, Mikado Pheasant, Hsuehsan grass lizard, and many more.

Exploring Taiwan

Climate

Taiwan enjoys warm weather throughout the year. The strongest fluctuations in weather conditions occur during spring and winter, while during summer and autumn the weather is relatively stable. Taiwan is extremely suitable for traveling, as the annual average temperature is a comfortable 22 degrees Celsius with lowest temperatures ranging from 12 to 17 degrees Celsius (54-63 Fahrenheit).

Therefore, with the exception of a few mountain areas where some traces of snow can be found during winter, no snow can be seen in Taiwan. When summer is about to dismiss spring (March to May), continuously drizzling rain will sometimes fall on Taiwan. When visiting Taiwan during this period, remember to carry an umbrella at all times; because although it might seem romantic to have a stroll in the rain, it is no fun to travel when you are soaking wet.

During summer (June to August), typhoons sometimes reach the island. We suggest you keep an eye on weather reports during typhoon season, because the roaring waves at the coast are not to be regarded as one of Taiwan's tourist scenes. During autumn (September to October), you can fully enjoy the cool and soothing weather, while Taiwan's relatively warm and short winter (November to February) is the time to admire the beautifully colored maple trees. The cold fronts that reach Taiwan sporadically are greatly favored by the island's hot spring lovers. In short, Taiwan, where it always seems to be spring, is your perfect travel destination!

The Friendly People of Taiwan

Taiwan has a population of 23 million. The largest part of the island's inhabitants are the descendants of immigrants from the various provinces of mainland China, but in particular from the southeastern coastal provinces of Fujian and Guangdong. Because the different ethnic groups are fairly well integrated, the differences that originally existed between people from different provinces have gradually disappeared.

Some 360,000 indigenous people, the original inhabitants of Taiwan, still live here; they can be distinguished into 14 different tribes, namely the Amis, the Atayal, the Paiwan, the Bunun, the Puyuma, the Rukai, the Tsou, the Saisiyat, the Tao (or Yami), the Thao, the Kavalan, the Truku, the Sakizaya and the Sediq.

Exploring Taiwan

Language

The official language of Taiwan is Mandarin Chinese, but because many Taiwanese are of southern Fujianese descent, Minnan (the Southern Min dialect or Heluo) is also widely spoken. The smaller groups of Hakka people and aborigines have also preserved their own languages. Many elderly people can also speak some Japanese, as they were subjected to Japanese education before Taiwan was returned to Chinese rule in 1945, when the Japanese occupation lasted for half a century.

The most popular foreign language in Taiwan is English, which is part of the regular school curriculum. However, to be in mind of safety, we suggest that you prepare a note with your destination address written in Chinese to show the taxi driver when taking a taxi.

Taiwan is also the ideal place to learn Chinese. There are numerous language schools that offer Chinese classes, ranging from hourly-based classes to recognized university programs. Many foreigners from Europe and the United States, as well as other areas, come to Taiwan to spend their holidays, or one or two years studying Chinese.

Northern Taiwan

Keelung

Situated in the northern part of Taiwan Island, Keelung used to be called Jilong, which means hencoop. The name was later changed to Keelung, which means "rich and prosperous land".

The city occupies 132.7589 square kilometers of land, 95% of which are hills. The city is separated from the neighboring counties and cities by the mountains in the east, west, and south. The northern part of the city faces the ocean and is a great deep-water harbor.

As the city is surrounded by mountains, communications between Keelung and other places were not very convenient in the past when transportation was not well developed. Gradually, the isolation gave Keelung the opportunity to develop its own marine culture.

After hundreds of years of battles and struggles, the city has become an international harbor city visited by numerous ships. Every year, Keelung hosts the Mid-July Festival, which often attracts thousands of visitors. When you visit Keelung, don't miss the fine and exquisite cuisine near the temple and be sure to plan a trip to visit the artillery emplacements, the tunnels, the beak head, the bay, the fishing port and the fishing market in Keelung.

Crepe Myrtle, the city flower of Keelung, belongs to the Loosestrife family (Lythraceae). These deciduous trees have smooth and mottled trunks, as well as pink, white, and mauve blooms that usually appear in late summer. Its exquisite branch ramification makes crepe myrtle a unique tree.

Exploring Taiwan

Taipei

There are two major public transportation systems, buses and mass rapid transit (MRT). Taipei is also building several bike routes in many of the city's riverside parks, to advance the concept of green transportation and eco-city.

Many traditional temples and houses are scattered throughout Taipei. Longshan Temple (龍山寺) is the oldest and most famous temple in the city, this temple is located in Kuanzhou Street of Taipei City. Visitors can take the Bannan Line of the Mass Rapid Transit (MRT) network and get off at the Longshan Temple station (龍山寺捷運站).

The Lin Family Garden (林家花園) is the island's finest example of classical Chinese landscape and architecture. The gardens are located at 9 Ximen Street, Banqiao (板橋市西門街9號). You can walk there in about ten minutes from the Fuzhong MRT Station (府中捷運站).

Taipei's main attraction is the majestic National Palace Museum (國立故宮博物院), which houses the world's largest and finest collection of oriental art treasures. The National Palace Museum is located on Chihshan Road in the Shihlin District of Taipei City. Visitors can take the Danshui Line of the Mass Rapid Transit (MRT) network and get off at Shihlin Station, then take the Red 30 bus to the museum.

The Chiang Kai-shek Memorial Hall (中正紀念堂), the island's most impressive monument to the late president, has a beautiful Ming-style arch at its main entrance that is flanked by the National Theater (國家劇院) and the National Concert Hall (國家音樂廳). Visitors can take the Danshui-Xindian Line or the Beitou-Nanshi Jiao Line of the Mass Rapid Transit (MRT) network and get off at the CKS Memorial Hall Station.

Exploring Taiwan

Northern Taiwan is rich in natural beauty. Towering over Taipei to the north is Yangmingshan National Park (陽明山國家公園), where well-maintained walkways and trails lead visitors to scenic spots such as waterfalls, volcanic craters, lakes, and hot springs. To get there, bus 260 leaves from Zhengzhou Road (the road directly behind Taipei Main Railway Station) for the park every ten minutes, traveling along Zhongshan North Road and turning right on to Zhongzheng Road in Shilin. From Jiantan MRT station, Bus Red 5 leaves for the park every 15 minutes. From Beitou, bus 230 takes the route every thirty minutes. It is a short walk from the bus station to the cultivated area of the park.
